

SONG: Jeopardy Ken

JEOPARDY KEN

(lyrics: David Lefkowitz. music: The Beatles's The Continuing Story of Bungalow Bill by John Lennon & Paul McCartney)

Deep in his bank account, he's put a million bucks
Some call it genius, while others call it luck
He looks like something that fell off a turnip truck.

Everybody sing:

Hey Jeopardy Ken, do it again, Jeopardy Ken.
Hey, Jeopardy Ken, what did you win, Jeopardy Ken?

He comes from Utah and his brother picks his ties
"Oh look, he won again." Surprise, surprise, surprise.
He's such a marvel, he's the devil in disguise.

All the mormons sing:

Hey Jeopardy Ken, do it again, Jeopardy Ken.
Hey, Jeopardy Ken, what did you win, Jeopardy Ken?

He's just as smug as a computer geek can be
All the suspense is gone by Final Jeopardy
But no one else can run the board on Potpourri.

Alex Trebek sings:

Hey Jeopardy Ken, do it again, Jeopardy Ken.
Hey, Jeopardy Ken, what did you win, Jeopardy Ken?
Hey Jeopardy Ken, do it again, Jeopardy Ken.
Hey, Jeopardy Ken, what did you win, Jeopardy Ken? (Ale!)

©2004 David Lefkowitz

NOTES & BACKSTORY:

"Jeopardy Ken" was played on the Oct. 10, 2004 episode of the legendary Dr. Demento Show (season 4, episode 41) as part of a mini-segment about games. I then aired the song on my radio show/podcast, Dave's Gone By, Oct. 14, 2004.